

E-Commerce Sales Analysis

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Sales, profit and customer insights from the Superstore dataset

October 2026

Tools: Python | pandas | matplotlib | seaborn Prepared by: Aafra, Data Analyst

$2.30M

Total Sales

$286K

Total Profit

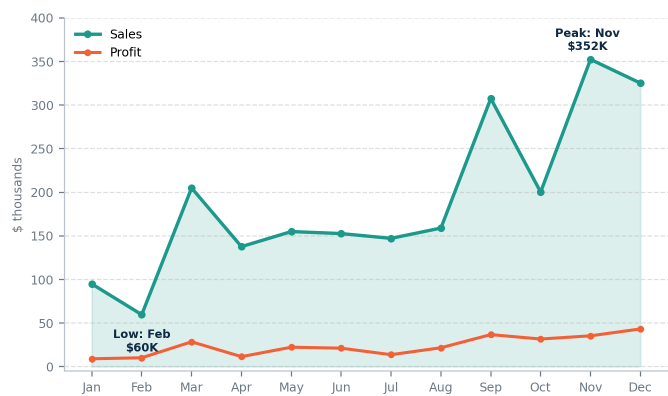

12.5%

Overall Profit Margin

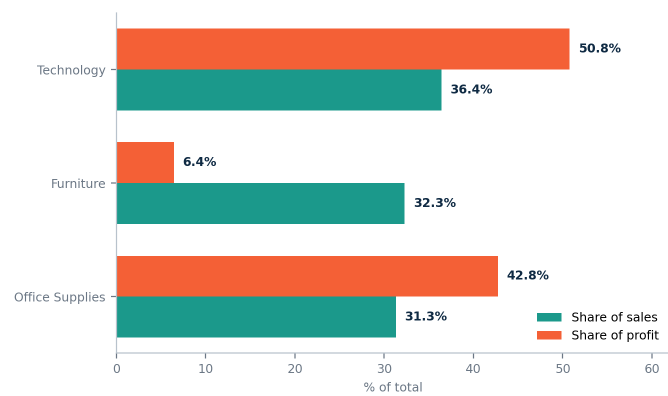

9,994

Order Records Analysed

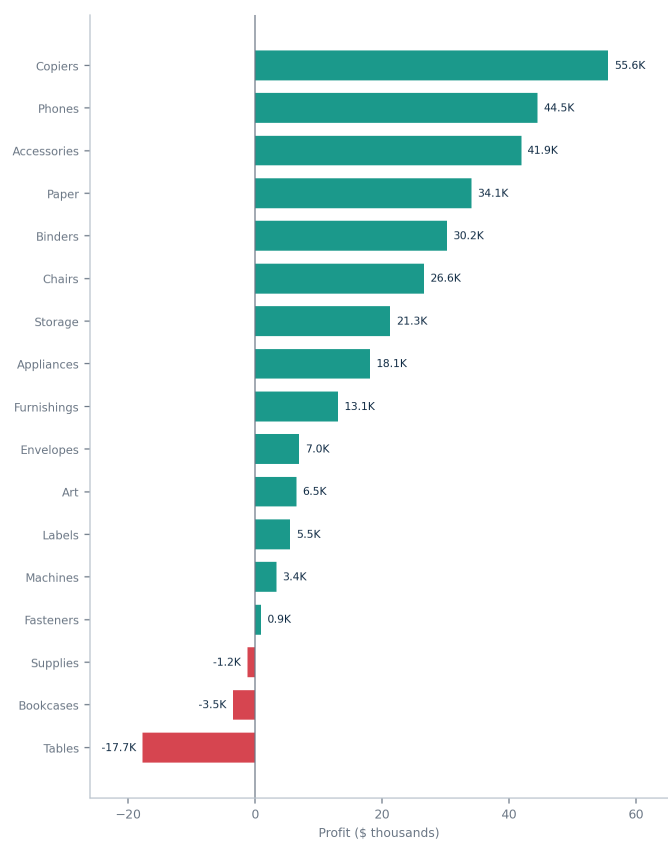

Monthly Sales and Profit

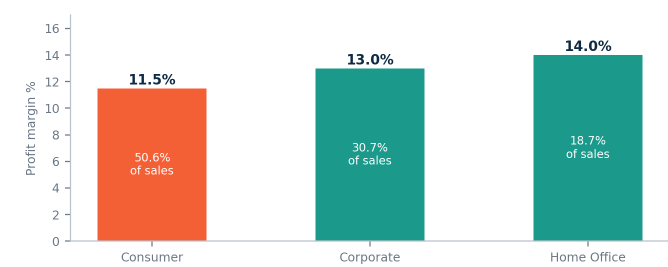

Category: Sales Share vs Profit Share

Profit by Sub-Category

Profit Margin by Customer Segment

Key Insights

- Seasonality: Sep to Dec brings 51.6% of annual sales. Nov is the peak ($352K) and Feb is the lowest ($60K).
- Technology earns 50.8% of profit from 36.4% of sales. Furniture earns only 6.4% of profit from 32.3% of sales.
- Tables (-$17.7K) and Bookcases (-$3.5K) pull Furniture down; Supplies (-$1.2K) also loses money.
- Copiers ($55.6K), Phones ($44.5K), Accessories ($41.9K) and Paper ($34.1K) are the profit leaders.
- Consumer is half of sales but has the lowest margin (11.5%); Home Office has the best (14.0%).

Recommendations

1. Fix Furniture

Review pricing, discounts and costs on Tables and Bookcases. Check average discount to find the cause.

2. Back the winners

Promote Copiers, Accessories and Paper with bundles and campaigns. Keep investing in Phones and Binders.

3. Plan for Sep to Dec

Build stock and marketing plans around the festive peak, and look for ways to lift weak early-year months.

4. Lift Consumer margin

Cut discount leakage in Consumer. Even +1% margin on $1.16M sales is meaningful. Grow Home Office and Corporate.